HOW IT WORKS - Typical Sprinkler Installation

The Platypus Sprinkler system is designed for maximum protection from ember attack on residential, commercial or public assets in the event of a bushfire or wildfire.

Is your home or business located in a wildfire prone area? For peace of mind you should install the latest in wildfire protection to protect your most important assets. The Platypus Wildfire Sprinkler System offers an affordable and simple to install water based fire protection system designed and made in Australia.

The Platypus Wildfire Sprinkler System was inspired by the need for an affordable and simple to install sprinkler system that provides protection to homes, commercial and public assets from ember attack in the event of a wildfire.

Sprinkler heads are typically mounted along the fascia line and or ridgeline of the building.

Fascia line sprinklers are mounted to ensure water is sprayed onto the roof to keep gutters wet and create a curtain effect around the building. This means any embers are dampened and radiant heat reduced by water sprayed from sprinklers. The effect is similar to a fireman approaching a fire.

The Platypus Sprinkler System can be installed by an approved installer.
